NEW: JAMA Health Forum, an online channel offering original commentary from leading health care strategists and relevant original research from across the JAMA Network.

Essential Content from the JAMA Network™

JAMA®, JAMA Network Open™, and the 10 specialty journals in the JAMA Network provide your users with the most current original research, reviews, opinions, and more — in a variety of formats and media to make it easy to apply the most up-to-date medical information.

A JAMA Network site license includes full access to:

- Practice-changing original research and the newest clinical trials
- Clinical review and education content that offers useful therapeutic and diagnostic insight
- Weekly podcasts that explore the latest research and clinical topics, including JAMA Clinical Reviews and JAMA Editors' Summary
- Multimedia features such as author video interviews and PowerPoint image downloads
- Mobile-optimized view for any device
- Key Points feature that offers a concise, 3-part summary of original research content
- JAMA Network Remote Access allows your users remote access to the same original research, opinion, and educational content they would have on campus from anywhere they happen to be — on any mobile, tablet, or desktop device.
