CODE-CENTRIC SOLUTIONS

Empower your community with forward-thinking code content solutions

Since 1962, General Code has worked with more than 3,200 communities—including over 500 in New Jersey—to build, maintain, publish, and host Codes that represent municipalities' laws in a clear, accessible, and easy-to-use manner.

To provide even greater value to our New Jersey-based client communities, General Code has developed eCode360® API (Application Programming Interface) for easy integration with other municipal software platforms. This unique integration will save time and allow users to access, search and select municipal code data directly within critical municipal software, making code accessibility and enforcement easier and more effective.

General Code is committed to building vibrant, resilient communities in New Jersey through collaborative technology solutions.
