How Do I programs use EQIPP FOR RESIDENTS?

- Encouraging the use of QI Basics as a primer to QI implementation
- Grouping residents by continuity clinic and using Faculty to help assist the implementation of the course within clinic
- Based on need of the program and clinic, allowing each group or clinic to choose a topic (or track) that best meets the need of the clinic and/or residents.
- Grouping residents by topic (or track) and have them work together in separate cohorts to implement the improvements in clinic.
- Some programs have assigned certain times of the month (e.g. 2nd Thursday of the Month – brown bag lunch) to review progress and data together.
- Grouping residents by PL year; essentially spreading out the course completion requirements over the term of residency. Leveraging mentorship opportunities for the PL3 and PL4 residents.
