

DSO or DIY?

For many Specialists today, the looming question is whether to be an independent clinician or align with a dental support organization (DSO) such as ADMI. When examining the two options, the answer comes down to your career aspirations and how much you want to do by yourself versus working in a more supportive environment.

With an exclusive territory and built-in network of referred patients, your earning potential is unlimited with Aspen Dental. The practices you partner with will schedule your appointments and provide a dedicated, experienced dental assistant to support you. In addition to making an excellent living, you'll be making a positive impact on communities in need.

In other words, no matter what your goals and aspirations, Aspen Dental makes it easier to achieve them.

A new way to work. A better quality of life.

With more than 600 offices in 36 states, Aspen Dental practices are the fastest growing network of independently owned and operated dental practices in the country. Every practice is owned and operated by a licensed dentist and supported by Aspen Dental Management, Inc. (ADMI), a dental support organization that provides a full range of nonclinical business support services.

As a Specialist with Aspen Dental, you can focus on what you do best, and love most – providing excellent patient care. ADMI handles the paperwork, billing, marketing and other overhead chores involved with running a practice so that you can make patients smile and get home in time to see your family do the same. With opportunities across the country, there are unlimited options for finding the position and location that best match your goals.

This is all part of how Aspen Dental makes it easier to have the career you always dreamed of.

What Aspen Dental practices provide for Specialists:

A territory to call your own: You'll become the exclusive service provider for multiple Aspen Dental practices in a designated territory and routinely visit each office.

A built-in network of patients: With an advanced scheduling system, you'll have optimal schedules that maximize care opportunities, efficiency and productivity.

Day-to-day business support: No more tedious paperwork, billing, scheduling, marketing and other business chores. ADMI takes care of the day-to-day nonclinical operations so you can take care of your patients.

State-of-the-art facilities: The most advanced dental tools and techniques are at your fingertips in contemporary, well-maintained offices.

Flexibility: From part time to full time, the Aspen Dental model gives you a choice of job options that fit your lifestyle.

Higher earning potential: With an exclusive territory and steady stream of patients, you'll have more earning potential than you typically do in a private practice.
