

THE X SERIES

The X series include a special waterproof glass head which delivers an optimal light exposure - 55% more than any device in the market.

The glass head probe can be used with creams or gel that will allow you to maximize the effectiveness of the treatment. The glasses head will heat up to 40-42° C (104-107° F) to provide topical heating which increases blood flow to the treated area . The increased blood flow provides protein, nutrients and oxygen to naturally heal and improve the treated area.
